

Extraterrestrial Civilizations and World Peace Conference Report

The ‘buzz’ is exceptional and the reports from those in attendance is that the Extraterrestrial Civilizations and World Peace Conference, held on the Big Island of Hawaii from June 9-11, 2006, was a ground breaking educational, spiritual and action packed success. This event brought together an extraordinary group of international speakers to discuss ways to promote peaceful relations with extraterrestrial civilizations. In addition to a remarkable series of presentations by conference speakers, the Conference was unique in achieving consensus in support of a “Hawaii Declaration on Peaceful Relations with Extraterrestrial Civilizations”. This Declaration is now in the hands of attendees and speakers alike who have been inspired to bring this document to their own local communities and city councils, and it has been translated into German and Italian.

Over 150 attendees filled the conference which was situated in the heart of downtown Kailua-Kona. The opening ceremony featured Hawaiian chanting, a Lei ceremony, introductions by the conference organizers, Dr Michael Salla and Angelika Whitecliff, and featured local Hawaii celebrity, Douglas Webster as Master of Ceremonies. Live Music by the Bhakti Tribe with world famous artist Micheal Hammer was featured Friday and Saturday nights, which set a lively and uplifting mood for the evening presentations.

In the first conference presentation, Dr Salla discussed “Getting to Yes with ET: Citizen Diplomacy with Extraterrestrial Civilizations”. He discussed the history of diplomatic relations with extraterrestrials since the Eisenhower administration and how citizen diplomats can contribute to greater transparency and accountability when it comes to diplomatic relations with extraterrestrials. Veteran UFO/Exopolitics researcher, Paola

Harris, next presented her research on a number of UFO whistleblowers and their relevance for world peace presenting their own words in a number of taped interviews. Mary Rodwell presented on how humanity is gradually evolving and developing heightened psychic abilities due to ongoing interaction with extraterrestrial civilizations. The final presentation of the first day was a discussion and live channeling featuring Darryl Anka/Bashar where he discussed the proposed Extraterrestrial Contact Act whereby individuals right to interact with extraterrestrials would be recognized.

Day Two of the conference began with Captain Robert Salas (USAF retired) giving a detailed presentation on the Malmstrom Missile shutdown in 1967 where UFOs deactivated a number of nuclear missiles in Montana. Based on his experience and research, Captain Salas concluded that nuclear weapons are an obstacle to peaceful relations with extraterrestrials. In an enthusiastically received presentation, Ambassador John McDonald discussed the evolution of citizen diplomacy and speculated on how it might develop in response to the open appearance of extraterrestrial civilizations. Wendelle Stevens (Lt Col., USAF, ret.) described his research from over 60 years of investigations demonstrating the peaceful intent and activities of extraterrestrials. Dr Thomas Hansen then presented his Declaration of Cosmic Cooperation and drew upon his extensive peace work to describe how peaceful relations with extraterrestrials can be established. Neil Freer gave a powerful presentation on how humanity's evolution from a bio-engineered race created by extraterrestrials as workers, has led to the opportunity to emancipate itself from whatever dependencies are entrenched in human culture and genetic hardwiring. Philip Corso, Jr., provided an inspired presentation of his father's experiences with extraterrestrial technology and of his face to face encounter with an EBE. He described in detail how Col. Corso viewed extraterrestrials and explained the circumstances leading to the famous EBE rejoinder to Col Corso's question upon being asked to cooperate, what's in it for me? "A New World if you can take it!"

The final session on Saturday began with the conference organizers discussing the role of the Exopolitics Institute in sponsoring the conference, its goals of supporting exopolitical researchers, and the need for generous public support to enable the Institute to sponsor similar future events and to assist exopolitical researchers in the field. This was followed by the conference keynote speaker, the Honorable Paul Hellyer, who gave a powerful presentation on the policy implications of the ongoing cover-up of UFO information and the weaponization of space. He contrasted the future as a choice between Star Dreams and Star Wars, and made clear the urgency in choosing more cooperative relations with extraterrestrials.

The final day began with a presentation by local Hawaii resident and cetacean researcher, Joan Ocean, M.Sc., who thrilled the audience with her remarkable dolphin film footage. She described her research into dolphins and how they regularly interact with extraterrestrials and the impact for world peace. James Gilliland then gave a remarkable account of UFO/extraterrestrial activity around his retreat around Mt Adams and how many hundreds of researchers have traveled there to confirm his claims of ongoing UFO/extraterrestrial activity. JZ Knight then presented a riveting account of humanity's super-neural connections to extraterrestrials, and thrilled the audience who broke out on numerous occasions into spontaneous applause.

Alfred Webre, J.D., then presented on his Decade of Contact initiative and explained how humanity's preparation for open contact with extraterrestrials need to be built on four pillars: disclosure of the extraterrestrial presence; a ten year period of formal public education concerning extraterrestrials; the development of a permanent ban on space weapons; and citizen diplomacy with extraterrestrial civilizations. The final conference presentation was by Dr Scott Jones who discussed how our planet is in peril due to the domination of a few decision makers concerning extraterrestrials. He argued how the policies passed by a few have led to restriction of extraterrestrial information, prevented the abolishment of weapons of mass destruction and led to the head long rush into war.

The culmination of the conference was the final panel discussion of the Hawaii Declaration on Peaceful Relations with Extraterrestrial. An initial version had been circulated to all conference speakers prior to the conference and led to a revised version that was circulated to all conference delegates in the form of a questionnaire. After tabulating the results, speakers had two meetings to discuss the audience responses and decide upon an updated version. The penultimate version was presented at the last panel session and was open to discussion between speakers and audience. The audience proposed a number of revisions and after further debate, the proposals were adopted by the speakers and accepted into the final version which was formally adopted by consensus. This was a unique moment in the recent history of human awareness of extraterrestrials since for the first time consensus had been achieved on how to establish peaceful relations with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Michael E. Salla, Ph.D & Angelika Whitecliff (Conference Organizers)

June 19, 2006

Further information:

- Conference website with photos and further details is available at: <http://www.etworldpeace.com>
- The Hawaii Declaration can be signed as a petition at: <http://www.petitiononline.com/ETPeace/petition.html>
- All conference presentations were recorded and are available in DVD format at: <http://www.exopoliticsinstitute.org/Conference-DVDs.htm>
- The Website for the Exopolitics Institute is: <http://www.exopoliticsinstitute.org>